Registration Opens for Hawaii 2020 Conference

From June 24-27, NACUSAC will hold its 2020 Annual Conference & Expo at the Hyatt Regency Waikiki Beach Resort on the beautiful Hawaiian island of Oahu. With so much going on in credit union oversight, supervisory committees and anyone involved in auditing, accounting, compliance and risk management would benefit by attending.

General sessions on Supervisory Committee of the 21st Century, regulatory and economic updates, as well as a Q&A with experts in credit union auditing, will all be part of this year's comprehensive educational program. Attendees will also have a variety of breakout sessions to chose from on topics including:

- Marijuana banking and the impact on your credit union
- Third-party vendor oversight
- Benefits risk management
- IT audit planning
- Current credit trends and related risks

- Accounting and financial reporting on FASB, CECL and more

In addition, a session on Bank Secrecy Act (BSA) will satisfy the annual requirement for BSA training. The conference program also offers up to 22 CPEs and NACUSAC University credits.

If you are a new supervisory committee member looking for training on the key responsibilities involved in your position, you will have the option to sign up for all-day training that includes a segment on understanding credit union financial statements and key ratios.

Of course there will also be time for enjoying plenty of rest and relaxation after the sessions including an authentic Hawaiian luau that's included with conference registration. There is also an exciting program planned for guests who are accompanying conference participants.

With so much to offer, attendees will be able to get the latest information and updates and satisfy all of their annual training while enjoying the beauty of Hawaii.
